Dear _____,

In accordance with 29 PPER 29094, wherein the PLRB has said, “In deciding whether or not requested information is relevant, the Board employs the liberal standard of ACME Industrial Company, supra. As our Commonwealth Court observed in construing that case in Commonwealth v. Commonwealth, PLRB, supra, if the bargaining representative “is seeking information in connection with its pursuit of grievances, the Board need only find: (1) that the union is advancing a grievance which on its face is governed by the parties’ agreement, and (2) that the information will be useful to the union.
